

LEGIONS STAND ON LABOR TOLD

Franklin D'Olier Says Organization Is For
Law and Order.

TO SERVE EVERYONE

Members are First Patriots and to Keep Alive the Spirit of the War.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 10.—Franklin D'Olier, national commander of the American Legion, has issued from national headquarters the following statement regarding the attitude of the American Legion toward organized labor:

"The attitude of the American Legion towards organized labor is exactly the same as its attitude toward all groups of Americans who are interested in a square deal for all in the maintenance of law and order and the protection of the institutions handed down to us by our forefathers."

"The preamble of our Constitution expresses very clearly the purpose of the American Legion and stands as follows:

"For God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and promote a sense of individual obligation to our communities, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of money; to right the master of interest, to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness."

Service Is Our Motto

"The purpose of the American Legion is two-fold—service to our comrades and service to our country. In the spirit of 'service to our comrades' we will do all in our power and all of our strength to the end that the ex-service man, especially the disabled man and his dependents and the dependents of those who paid the supreme sacrifice, shall receive that just and fair treatment which they have reason to expect from a patriotic and liberal country."

"In serving our country we shall endeavor to keep alive that spirit of service which induced us all to respond to our country's call in the cause of her need, even to the extent of giving our lives for her supreme sacrifice. And this we propose in doing by assisting in the maintenance of a 100 per cent Americanism based on fair play and a square deal for all."

The members of organized labor are patriotic Americans, and we have proved their patriotism and their loyalty. Consequently, on the purposes of the American Legion both they and we are in accord. Many of our more local members are members of organized labor, and it is our hope that every ex-service man who is a member of organized labor will join the American Legion. All ex-service men who are members of organized labor have given their time and their patriotism to the country and now appreciate their responsibilities as citizens, and we therefore hope it will not be long before they all are active members of the American Legion."

VERMILLION, S.
